Bacharach Introduces NEW ECO-2020™ Refrigerant Recovery Unit

Bacharach Inc. is proud to introduce the all-new ECO-2020™ refrigerant recovery machine, the perfect choice for residential or light-commercial HVAC professionals seeking reliability, speed, and cost-saving performance in one easy-to-use tool. The ECO-2020™ is designed to be an economical choice for today's environmentally conscious HVAC contractor. The simple single-knob operation enables intuitive and efficient refrigerant recovery. It also features a unique purge function allowing the unit to handle various refrigerants effortlessly.

With a rugged new design built on Bacharach's refrigerant recovery expertise, this latest generation unit includes all of the essential features required to service today's systems in a compact, lightweight package. Key ECO-2020™ features include:

- One-knob operation for ease-of-use and accessibility
- AC motor with overload protection
- Twin-cylinder, 1 HP performance
- Fastest R-410a and liquid recovery rates including R22 and R134a - certified by AHRI
- Standard inline filter and built-in inlet filter screen
- Purge and 80% shut-off option available on every unit
- Easy-to-see LED status indicators for power, start, complete, etc.
- High-visibility red "keep-out" areas on gauges for constant feedback on status of recovery
- Full 12-month warranty coverage

ECO-2020™ kits include the refrigerant recovery machine, detachable power cord, inline particulate filter dryer, 4' hose (for use between filter and inlet), shoulder strap, extra O-ring and inlet filter screen, and instruction manual. Additional configurations include 220-240V capability and the optional 80% shut-off cord. Part numbers and pricing detail below:
